Who we are – delivery team

Kate Hargreaves

Founder and Managing Director
Prolific tea –drinker

‘The quote ‘Wise is she who knows that she does not know’ by Lao Tzu perfectly sums up my ethos as a coach. I use my not knowing and wondering in service of our clients.’

Neil Mundell-Phipps

Leadership Partner and Coach
Our very own Judith Chalmers

‘I am passionate about creating and supporting environments where everyone can make a positive contribution.’

Ben Hardman

Leadership Partner and Coach
Our very own Train Guy

‘I love engaging with people in a way that enables them to become the very best they can be - in that moment and beyond.’

What we do

- Executive coaching
- Psychometrics and personality profiling
- Leadership, people and culture development
- Coach training to post-graduate level
- CPD for leaders
- CPD and supervision for coaches

But we aren't mainstream. That's for sure.
This is executive coaching with a difference.
Coaching that makes a permanent and radical change.
To leaders and their teams.

If you're looking for the GROW model or for pages of structured tables and SWOT models, we're probably not going to be a good fit. Because we won't give you 5 steps to great leadership. Or, for that matter, 8 steps to change.

Why?

Because we know you'll have lost interest after step two.

We deliver insights over information

It's not that we don't give you information. We do.

But we're more about uncovering insights that you can apply, straightaway.
And that will shift your thinking, your way of working.
And indeed, change your way of being – at once and forever.

Work with us.
Apply what you've learned.
And watch as the issues that trip you up
Time and time again
Are surfaced and released.
For good.

And things will never be the same again.

Here is where leaders learn to navigate the world differently
And whole cultures shift for the better.

We'd love to continue the conversation...
